

SAVONA QUATTORDICI

The need to think a space without a precise connotation, the aim of giving a definition to a container of multiple events, guided the design of this small space.

The tangible limit of the floor swells through the optical effect given by the glossy resin, the portals of linear lights, replicated on the mirrors, extend the physical limits of space, creating a new perspective. The attempt is to rethink the idea of space, changing the usual perception, to create a place of active solicitation of user's behaviour.
